REMARKS AND CORRECTIONS IN VOL. LV.

MR. URBAN, June 20, 1786.

P. 163. As to Robert Nicholas, the judge mentioned in the laſt note, ſee A. Wood's "Athen. Oxon." ii. col. 60, 61.

P. 324, 5, Mr. Hopkins, the late Vicar of Cropredy, was B. D. and publiſhed a ſermon in 1773; an account of which was given in p. 85, of your volume for the ſucceeding year.

P. 402. The diſquiſition relative to the patriarchal ſwords, is truly ſatisfactory; and might have reminded you to refer to the valuable diſſertation on the patriarchal manners in your Magazine for September 1779, as they illuſtrate each other.

P. 516, col. 1. l. 58, ſhould we not read, "quæ me hortentur?" and p. 521, col. 1, 31, 32, "lamincæ?"

The "conſummate nonſenſe" of the redoubted Heron, alias Pinkerton, exhibited in p. 580, col. 2, l. 56, may be ſufficiently obviated by a peruſal of "The Guardian," N° 86.

P. 677, 8. As to the ſimile in Homer, a reference might have been made to p. 77, of your volume for 1774.

P. 683, col. 1. The negative character our correſpondent has given of himſelf, in the concluding words of his unſigned letter, is rather extraordinary, when this contents of it are conſidered. However, let him attend to the impartial teſtimony of a worthy diſſenter in full contradiction to the malignant aſperſion on king Charles the Firſt; who, according to Mr. John Howe, "was never heard to ſwear an oath in his common converſation." See Calamy's "Memoirs of the life of Howe," p. 242, Lond. 1724, octavo.

Yours, &c. SCRUTATOR.

Vol. LVII. The note p. 404. belongs not at all to the inscription on lady E. Hastings's monument: but the mark of reference should be at the word appointment, p. 403. col. 1. P. 403. col. 2. l. 37. for judgements, read judgement. p. 404. for 1749, r. 1739. In title-page for May, instead of character of Erasmus, read, "Bishop Wilson's opinion of Law's Christian Perfection." "A sketch of Christianity from Erasmus."

EPITAPH, from COTTON MS. VESPASIAN C. XIV. fol. 176.

"Consecrated to the memory of the right honourable Sir OLIVER ST. JOHN, knight, second sonne to Nicholas St. John, of Lydeard Tregoze, in Wilts, and Elizabeth Blunt, descended from the Barons Tregoze and Grandisone, and from the Duchesse of Somersett, sole daughter and heire of Sir John Beauchampe of Blessoe; master of the Ordinance, Lord Deputie and Lord High Treasurer of Ireland; for his abundant meritt in the execution of those charges advanced by King James to the dignitie of Viscount Grandisone of Limerick, and Baron Tregoze of Hyworth, and Councellour of Estate in both kingdoms. In his youth he was trained up in marshall affairs; at the battle of Kinsale, (where he was Collonel of a regiment,) in the journey of Cales, and the islands of Tercera, he shewed singular judgment and valour in his own person. He died, full of dayes and honour, aged 70 yeares, on the 30th of December, 1630."

 Correspondents are requested to address their Favours (POST-PAID) to Mr. NICHOLS, Printer, Cicero's Head, Red Lion Passage, Fleet Street.
